"Back at Winterhaven, seventeen-year old Violet must find a way to save her vampire boyfriend, Aidan, balance the demands of her psychic visions and prepare for an upcoming vampire war"--

Violet McKenna's life started falling apart when a premonition of her father's murder came true, but at a new school, Winterhaven, she finds friends with psychic gifts and an alluring boy whose destiny is entwined with hers in a critical--and deadly--way.

Danger looms large in the sequel to Haven, which Booklist called "a blend of the Gemma Doyle trilogy, the Twilight saga, and Lois Duncan's thrillers." Violet McKenna is back for her senior year at Winterhaven and thrilled to be with Aidan after a long summer apart. But while their love for each other is as strong as ever, their troubles are far from over. News of a rogue vampire on a killing spree sets everyone on edge. While Aidan is determined to stop the killer, Violet is chilled by a horrifying vision she simply must prevent...for if she can't, two people she loves will meet a violent end. In the midst of Violet's fear, a mysterious newcomer enters her life--and he has some vital information not just about her past, but about her future as well. Now everything Violet held as truth is upended, and she is left not knowing whom to trust, if she is in danger, and--worst of all--whether she and Aidan are really meant to be together.

Jenna and Ryder are far from friends--until a storm stirs up their passion in this contemporary southern romance from New York Times bestselling author Kristi Cook. In Magnolia Branch, Mississippi, The Cafferty and Marsden families are practically royalty. Neighbors since the Civil War, the families have shared vacations, holidays, backyard barbecues, and the overwhelming desire to unite their two clans by marriage. So when the families finally have a baby boy and girl at the same time, the perfect opportunity seems to have arrived. Except Jenna Cafferty and Ryder Marsden have no intention of giving in to their parents' wishes. They're only seventeen--oh, and also? They hate each other. Jemma can't stand Ryder's nauseating golden-boy persona, and Ryder would prefer it if stubborn-headed Jemma didn't exist. And their communication is not exactly effective: even a casual bello turns into a yelling match. But when a violent Mississippi storm ravages through Magnolia Branch, it unearths feelings Jenna and Ryder didn't know they had. And the line between love and hate just might be thin enough to cross...

When Ryder Marsden and Jenna Cafferty return to Magnolia Branch for Christmas break following their first semester at their respective universities in New York City, their secret relationship is revealed--they're literally caught under the mistletoe, kissing. Unexpectedly, their parents--who've spent their entire lives pushing them together--are somehow less than thrilled, especially when they realize the depth of their deception. Tensions mount as the Marsden and Cafferty families struggle to come to terms with Jemma's and Ryder's feelings for each other. At the same time, Jemma and Ryder must face their own problems that have arisen as a result of attending different schools--there are jealousies to be sorted out and hurt feelings to mend if their relationship is going to stand the test of time. Will their love last, or are they star-crossed lovers, after all? "...just what I was looking for: fun, light, with plenty of hot moments." --Kirkus Reviews on MAGNOLIA

"Wonderfully talented writing; funny." —Orson Scott Card, New York Times Bestselling Author of Ender's Game When eleven-year-old Guster Johnsonville rejects his mother's casserole for the umpteenth time, she takes him into the city of New Orleans to find him something to eat. There, in a dark, abandoned corner of the city, they meet a dying pastry maker. In his last breath, he entrusts them with a secret: an ancient recipe that makes the most delicious taste the world will ever know—a taste that will change the fate of humanity forever. Forced to flee by a cult of murderous chefs, the Johnsonvilles embark on a perilous journey to ancient ruins, faraway jungles and forgotten caves. Along the way, they discover the truth: Guster is an Everafter—a kid so picky that nothing but the legendary taste itself will save him from starvation. With the sinister chef's hat on Guster's heels and the chef's reign of terror spreading, Guster and his family must find the legendary taste before it's too late. "Sidwell is a talented comedian, and that is certainly reflected in his writing. The characters are quirky and likable." —Deseret News "One of the most original, well-crafted and imaginative MG stories I've come across in a long time." —Word Spelunking book review "We were laughing by the first page and gasping by the third as we followed the pickiest eater in the world. . . . If there's a kid in your life—get them this book, and read it with them! You won't want to miss out!" —Rachelle Christensen, Rachelle's Writing Spot, Author of Caller ID

Happily-ever-after is never quite what you expect in this hot and gritty romance.

Inspired by interviews with real-life cancer survivors and insider sports experience, this unforgettable New York Times bestseller shows a brave boy who learns what it truly means to be unstoppable. As National Ambassador for Young People's Literature emeritus Jon Scieszka said, Unstoppable is "absolutely heroic, and something every guy should read." If anyone understands the phrase "tough luck," it's Harrison. As a foster kid in a cruel home, he knows his dream of one day playing in the NFL is a longshot. Then Harrison is brought into a new home with kind, loving parents—his new dad is even a football coach. Harrison's big build and his incredible determination quickly make him a star running back on the junior high school team. On the field, he's practically unstoppable. But Harrison's good luck can't last forever. When a routine sports injury leads to a devastating diagnosis, it will take every ounce of Harrison's determination not to give up for good.
